IOWA YEARLY MEETING

The Iowa Friend

Going Farther Together— Manny Garcia, General Superintendent

One my all-time favorite movie trilogies is The Lord of the Rings. In the first installment, The Fellowship of the Ring, Frodo Baggins and 8 other companions embark on a journey to save Middle Earth from the grips of the enemy, Sauron. On this quest they learn the importance of going together. Even as they split into various groups throughout the course of the story, they all depend on one another and each one's fate is tied to the next.

This story reveals more about life than we probably ever realized. As we journey through life, doing our best to live the kind of life God desires for us, we need each other. God created us for community, we know this to be true because God created us in His image and He is community; Father, Son, and Holy Spirit. God had perfect and complete fellowship within Himself before creation was even on the radar. And, while we realize our need for one another, there are times where we just don't know what that looks like or how to engage in community, which causes us to wander and to become lonely and estranged.

We have been making preparations for our 160th Annual Iowa Yearly Meeting Sessions and my excitement is growing daily as I look forward to engaging with our larger community. This, after all, is way God designed us to live . . . together!

For the last two years our opportunities to live into this reality have been taken from us by a global pandemic and perverted by the cultural issues that would seek to divide us. But here we are, on the precipice of a new day and we, the Church, have an opportunity to be an example of just how good life in community can be. Don't miss it! Lean back into the good and beautiful life God invites us to experience together.

Let me offer just a few ways in which we can move back toward this kind of life.

Pray Together

Prayer is one of the greatest gifts that God ever gave us. We have the ability to hold an audience with the Creator of the Universe! That should be enough for us to want to be in His presence as often as we can be. Prayer, however, has taken a back seat to our own efforts, ideas, and desires. We have taken this wonderful gift and turned it into a life raft and a last resort. If we are to seek God's will and vision for His Church, we need look no further than the Holy of Holies. When God's people take time to seek unity within community, powerful things can begin to take place. If you want proof of that reality, just read the book of Acts.

Practice Together

Dallas Willard used to say that we shouldn't be asking ourselves, "What would Jesus do?", but a better question to ask is, "How did Jesus train?" We cannot simply act like Jesus did without putting in the time to be truly changed from the inside out. The idea of spiritual formation tends to lean toward the private side of our lives but approaching formation from a corporate posture can reveal hidden and new ways that God may be growing us that we were previously unaware of. Studying scripture, serving others, extended retreats, prayer, and spiritual direction are a few ways to do this, but the ways to "practice" together are as enumerable as the people involved. Anything that puts your community in the presence of God can be life giving and life changing.

Play Together

It is spiritually and physically healthy to have fun (read that again). That means sometimes we need to get together simply to enjoy each other's company in God's presence. Jesus spent a lot of time with his followers when he wasn't teaching, healing, or serving. What else can we assume he was doing other than simply enjoying being with them? If you'd like some biblical support of that, read the story of Mary and Martha; Jesus tells Martha to stop worrying so much and simply enjoy being together. This can look different to different communities, but the focus is the same, enjoy each other, laugh a lot, and go home feeling spiritually full and emotionally energized.

Worship Together

This seems like a given, but I've been troubled by the number of people who claim their belief in God is enough. "The church", they say, "is full of hypocrites so I'll just sit here and believe in God in the comfort of my own home." And now we can go to church online! Please don't mishear me, there is a time and place for this, but we cannot experience the sacraments remotely. They were meant to be experienced with others, in community. I'm not saying we all must go to a brick and mortar building and sit in a pew. While this is the way many choose to worship in community, any gathering of God's people with the intent of offering our sacrifice of praise to Him is worship. A house church, a group meeting in the park, a service at a nursing home or a prison, a group gathering at a coffee shop, or a bonfire in someone's backyard can all be forms of corporate worship. The focus isn't so much on where we meet, but why we meet.

Of course, this is not an exhaustive list, but it's a place to start. As the Chinese proverb states, "If you want to go fast, go alone. If you want to go far, go together." We need each other in this journey of life. We have a responsibility to one another, and like the ragtag group of sojourners that made up of the Fellowship of the Ring, our fates and the fate of the Church are interconnected and interdependent. We truly are better together!

"Behold, how good and pleasant it is when brothers dwell in unity!

It is like the precious oil on the head,
running down on the beard,
on the beard of Aaron,
running down on the collar of his robes!

It is like the dew of Hermon, which falls on the mountains of Zion!

For there the Lord has commanded the blessing, life forevermore." (Psalm 133)

Their love was so strong, that after 58 years of marriage, they could not stand to be apart for long. Donald "Don" Macy, 85, passed away Saturday morning, March 19, 2022. His beloved wife, Joyce Macy, 82, passed away Monday evening, March 21, 2022. They were both longtime residents of Bangor.

Donald James Macy was born November 2, 1936 to James W. and Marian (Kinzer) Macy in Liscomb, IA. After high school, Don served in the United States Army in intelligence. While in the Army, he served in Germany and was honorably discharged.

Joyce Ann Hoing was born March 16, 1940 to Francis "Bussy" and Ruth (Brewer) Hoing in Marshalltown, IA. Following high school, she moved to California to be a nanny for several years before her return to the Midwest.

Don and Joyce met and fell in love in 1963. They were united in marriage on November 8, 1963 in Marshalltown. Don farmed in the Bangor area until he retired in the late 1990s. He had his own trucking business and traveled throughout the United States. Joyce worked for 38 years at the Marshalltown Hospital as lead unit secretary until her retirement in 2002.

They were members of the Bangor Liberty Friends Church. More than anything else, they loved spending time with their family and adored their grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

Doris Marie Nordyke, 87, of Richland dies February 20, 2022.

She and her twin sister, Dorothy, were born on January 31, 1935 to Daniel Adam and Laura Esther Ritter Guy. Their parents instilled early the concept of dressing like twins, which they always did on special occasion; even the last few days of their lives. Doris married Kenneth Nordyke on September 1, 1956, and lived all her married life near Richland. She worked in the Fairfield Hospital and was the first Jefferson County Hospice Nurse. Doris was a hands-on farm wife, who loved and cared for their many farm animals. She was an active 4-H leader, Sunday School teacher at Woolson Friends Church, where she was a life-long member, and member of several women's clubs through the years.

Anna Lee Kivett, 93, of Le Grand, passed away on Monday, March 29, 2022 at Lutheran Hospital in Des Moines. Ann was born on March 29, 1929, in Washburn, Missouri; daughter of Frank and Florence Diem. After high school, she went to Springfield, MO, to college where she met her husband, Leroy. They moved to Kansas, and then to Le Grand, where Ann spent her career teaching elementary students and raising three children. Ann and Leroy were very active in the school and LeGrand Friends Church.
